ARCHAEOLOGICAL SITES

- 1 Dimini: The archaeological site of Dimini, known for the ruins of a great and organized Neolithic settlement (5th millennium), with unique architectural elements, such as the six stonewards, in between which the Neolithic houses were built. During the past few years, excavations have revealed a large Mycenaic city that, according to newer studies, it must have been ancient Iolkos. You can visit the archeological site with an automatic guide tour (in Greek and in English, tel. +30 24210 85960, 24210 25285).
- 2 Sesklo: Second and oldest Neolithic settlement (7th millennium). The visible foundations of the houses belong to the 6th millennium, the era of the settlement's prosperity. The archaeological site of Sesklo is well organized and can be visited with the same entrance fee as Dimini (tel. +30 24210 85960, 24210 25285).
- 3 Dimitriada: The ancient city of Dimitriada (1,5 km of Volos) was founded by the Macedonian King Dimitrios the Besieger. Some of the most important findings are the Macedonian palace and the agora, the ancient theatre and other structures. People started inhabiting this ancient city at the end of the Neolithic age and, during the Mycenaic years, the city of Nilia was founded in Pefkakia. There was the famous port of Iolkos, where the mythical Argonautic expedition, led by Iason, took place. The archaeological site is open for visits (tel. +30 24210 88091, 24210 25285).
- 4 New Anchialos - Fthiotides Thives: A small city by the sea, stretched across the lowlands, where the ancient city of Pirassos used to be, the port of ancient Fthiotida - Thiva. During the old Christian years (4th century a.C.) it was the residence of the Bishop and, during the 6th century a.C., the city of Fthiotida - Thiva was raised at the same place. The archaeological site is open for visits (tel. +30 24280 76468, 24280 77057).
